Qualifying information for Secondary and Associate accounts

- Secondary accounts must be associated with a primary full priced account of $225 yearly or $18.75 monthly for automatic credit card payment plans.
- Secondary accounts must share the same mailing address and expiration date as the primary account. While the same mailing address is required, the firm may use whatever means it desires to distribute secondary subscriptions within its own firm including its own satellite offices. Maine Lawyers Review will be happy to pro-rate add on secondary accounts to meet the expiration date requirement.
- Same firm subscriptions mailed to a different address or with a different expiration date do not qualify as a secondary account but as an associate account of $175 per year. Secondary subscriptions may not be attached to associate accounts.
- Secondary accounts meeting the above criteria are available to the following entities: Law firms, private and public companies, non-profit organizations and government entities at the agency or departmental level.

Automatic credit card plan

- Conveniently charge your subscription for a monthly rate of just $18.75 using a credit card. No need to deal with bills and checks. Automatic credit card payment is ideal for firms, companies, sole practitioners and individuals who wish to manage costs on a monthly basis in lieu of an annual payment of $225.00. Service will conveniently continue automatically each month until you instruct us otherwise. Initial and closing payments pro-rated accordingly.
